Bebop Jazz of the 1950s

by David Aaron

Jazz of the late 1940s and early 1950s was created by Dizzy Gillespie and Charlie Parker. With advanced harmonies, frantic tempos, drugs and berets, this new kind of jazz was shockingly different. Played by small bands in intimate jazz clubs for listening, it was seemingly impossible for dancing. Some say Bebop got its start in Harlem at Minton's Bar. With instructor David Aaron, we'll listen to the music and discuss its stars.

The 1960s Sound of Progressive Jazz

by David Aaron

David Aaron will discuss Jazz from the late 1950s and 60s played mostly by multi-piece combos in the style known as "Chamber Jazz." Soft sounding, intellectually stimulating, and played for quiet crowds in quiet rooms and concert halls, prominent groups featured are Dave Brubeck Quartet, Gerry Mulligan Quartet, JJ Johnson/Kai Winding Trombone Quintet, Miles Davis, and many others. New harmonies and unusual rhythmic changes gave this music its reputation.

The Best of the Silver Screen

by Marvin Fischer

The film industry produced some of this country's greatest musical hits. Some came from the music that was sung by one of the performers in a musical such as Over the Rainbow from The Wizard of Oz while others came from the background music in a drama such as The Godfather. Marvin Fischer will discuss as well as perform on piano, many of these standards.

Picasso and His Earth Shattering Painting

by Maurice Mahler

This will be an in depth analysis of "Les Demoiselles d'Avignon," an iconoclastic painting born from the rivalry between Picasso and Matisse for leadership of the 1907 avant-garde. In this adaptation of Primitivism and abandonment of perspective in favor of a flat, two-dimensional picture plane, Picasso makes a radical departure from traditional European painting. This revolutionary work is widely considered to be seminal in the early development of Cubism and modern art .
